House May Act On Strikes

Consideration Is Given To Proper Procedure States Rayburn

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Speaker Rayburn said flatly today that the House would be given an opportunity to pass on defense strike legislation "at the earliest date consistent with proper consideration."

He declined to specify whether a bill designed to prevent strikes in defense industry would be called up for action this week, saying that it "might take some time" because we "certainly want to pass considered legislation."

Rayburn took the floor last week during debate on the neutrality act to assert that he would "follow or lead" in any movement to deal "sanely" with the labor situation.

Stormy Session

Rayburn's press conference statement followed a stormy session of the house rules committee, at which the acting chairman, Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), urged swift congressional action to deal with defense strikes without awaiting settlement of the captive mine dispute on the ground that President Roosevelt "is still in the talking stage."

The committee session was called technically to consider granting right-of-way for the right-of-way for the price control bill but Cox asserted that the committee might "put the lid" on that measure until the question of labor legislation was settled. And Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) of the house committee to investigate un-American activities assailed Leon Henderson, price administrator, and a group of his subordinates described by Dies as not believing in the economic system of this country.

Don't Trust People

"I wouldn't trust these people with a good law," Dies shouted, "because they don't believe in the American form of government or the American economic system."

The Texas asserted that Henderson was dominated by a circle of Communist sympathizers. Among those he named as not believing in the American system were Robert A. Brady, whom he identified as consultant of the price administration; Tom Tippet, assistant chief of the rent section; Dewey H. Palmer and Mildred Edie Brady, specialist in consumer education. Asserting that revision of the neutrality act by congress last week had strengthened the President's foreign policy, Cox said that pursuance of that policy "in the absence of a strong domestic policy will lead the country to ruin."

Time For Showdown

"As regards the racketeers, saboteurs, gangsters and traitors in labor, the time has come for a showdown," Cox continued. "Some have been disposed to wait and see what the President might do, but he is still in the talking stage—whereas the time for talk has long passed."

"As for myself, I am unwilling to wait any longer and no matter what disposition is made of the pending quarrel between the President and John Lewis, congress should proceed to do its duty."

Because they considered the labor situation acute, administration leaders decided today to keep congress on the job and abandoned their hopes for a series of three-day recesses after Thanksgiving.

"The labor situation is so acute that we will stay on the job to consider whatever legislation may be necessary," one of them said privately.

Democratic chiefs in the house were reported to have told friends that "something" apparently will have to be done about continuing strikes in defense industries, and a group of southern Democrats already was at work

Stunt Man Dies In Galveston

Took Part In Daredevil Acts At State Fair Here

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The advance story described Capt. Bob Ward's Daredevil Aces show as a circus of death.

Stressed as a feature attraction was the dynamite wagon act, in which "a car is loaded with 50 sticks of dynamite and completely blown to bits with the driver still in the seat as the charge is ignited and set off."

"Anything can happen in this stunt and everything usually does. So many drivers have been injured attempting it that Captain Ward has contemplated striking the feature from the program."

"However, Suicide Ted Ward insists upon staying with the dynamite wagon and claims to be the only person in the world performing the feat."

Last night the 26-year-old Tulsa, Okla., stunt man drove the dynamite wagon to a far corner of the stadium.

There was a loud explosion, the smoke cleared away. Ward did not step out of the car. He died in an ambulance.

The show continued.

"Suicide," as Ted Ward was known to sporting circles, was the principal driver for the Capt. Bob Ward's Daredevils which have been an attraction at the Missouri State Fair the past two years. While Cap. Ward stood in the racing track describing the various features, Wade would take off in the old wrecked automobiles to put on the show. The young daredevil appeared with the show last fair week and the year before. He drove the car which was blown to bits on the far side of the race tracks.

Three Burned In Fire Saturday

RIVES, Mo., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Lena Hardin, 23, and two daughters, Clea Fern, 3, and Betty Loyce, six months, were burned fatally in a fire which destroyed their home Saturday night.

Dunklin County Coroner G. I. Gilmore said the father, Perry Hardin, 32, told him a stove in the two-room home exploded when he threw kerosene on live coals.

Hardin related that he grabbed the baby and ran outside but the flames trapped Mrs. Hardin and Clea Fern. The baby died later in a Kennett hospital where the father was treated for severe burns.

Another daughter, Frankie, 6, was in the yard and escaped injury.

Rosenburg Is New Minister

Placed by Hitler In Charge of Civil Administration

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler today appointed Alfred Rosenberg as Reichs minister in charge of civil administration in the eastern occupied regions.

The first region placed under Rosenberg includes Lithuania, Latvia and parts of White Russia.

The administrative unit will be known as the Reichs Commissariat Ostland.

Rosenberg, known as the ideological leader of National Socialism and familiarly called "The Thinker," is publisher of Hitler's newspaper the Voelkischer Beobachter and is an expert on eastern and especially Russian affairs.

Ukraine Also In

Parts of the Ukraine also were drawn into the German civil administration system. District leader Erich Koch was named Reichs commissioner for the Ukraine.

Civil administrations, it was announced, will be set up after military operations are completed in successive regions of eastern occupied territory.

Rosenberg belongs to Adolf Hitler's old guard and his influence on Nazidom has been profound. When the party succeeded to power in 1933 he greatly expanded and intensified its "foreign political office," of which he was the leader.

Rosenberg was born in Tallinn, capital of Estonia—which, apparently, is one of the later areas to be incorporated in the civil administration system.

His friends say that he considered Bolshevism best fought by Germany and Britain together and that he had that in mind when he went to London on a secret mission in 1933, the Nazis' first year in power.

Japanese Demand Free Hand

U. S. Opens New Phase Of Negotiations In Battle of Nerves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The war of nerves between Japan and the United States and her potential Allies attained full crisis pitch today, coinciding with a break in the German-Russian conflict which apparently gave Germany the caucasus approach she needed to keep her invasion on the move.

Formally voiced demands that Japan be unrestrained in working out her program of dominance in the East Asia "co-prosperity sphere" were accompanied by extraordinary British-Chinese military preparations, the latest of which was the arrival of Indian troops to bolster the already bristling defense of Singapore and the rest of Malaya.

The United States' participation in this contest of nerves—markedly like that which preceded the war in Europe—still was largely bound up in the opening of a new phase of negotiations with Japan, through a special envoy, Saburo Kurosu, at Washington.

Want Policies Reversed

But even before Kurosu held his opening conversation with Secretary Hull this morning, government leaders at Tokyo had added weight to Kurosu's handicap by laying before a critical session of the Japanese diet a new call for reversal of major United States policies in the Orient and emphasizing the demand with a declaration that Japan's patience was reaching its end.

The prominent newspaper Nichi Nichi struck the keynote for the Japanese press with: "Everything depends on the attitude of the United States."

Germany announced, at the same time, that her forces, with Rumanian comrades-in-arms, had captured Kerch, the Eastern Crimean stepping stone of the oil-rich Caucasus and that Alfred Rosenberg, Estonian-born ideological leader of the Reich, had been appointed by Adolf Hitler as the Reich's minister in charge of the civil administration in eastern occupied regions.

Kerch Seized

Seizure of Kerch, after a long and bitter contest, left the Germans separated from the side entrance into the mineral-rich Caucasus only by a narrow strait and more than ever the area loomed as the next theater of major action.

While Tokyo and Washington talked, Japan's neighbors in the Pacific prepared for possible military moves by Tokyo.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, supreme leader of the Chinese republic, at war with Japan for more than four years, told the People's Political Council at Chungking that preparations

Magic Tricks Cure Some Mental Diseases Psychiatrist States

By RENNIE TAYLOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Some kinds of mental disease can be treated successfully by teaching the patients to do magic tricks, Dr. Douglas B. Kelley, New York psychiatrist, asserted today.

Eight-of-hand, he said, is particularly helpful to neurotics, to introverts, depressives and split personality types because it gives them a feeling of superiority and draws them out of their shells.

"Since a magician invariably seeks an audience," Dr. Kelley added, "the accomplishment tends to re-socialize the patient, and this is one of the basic requirements of treatment."

Dr. Kelley first used the idea at the New York State Psychiatric Institute. He has been on leave from the institution for a year and has been carrying on his work at the University of California medical school.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The WPA will temporarily shut down projects anywhere in Missouri if necessary to supply farm labor, Col. B. M. Casteel, state administrator, said today.

Casteel said many farmers had complained of difficulty in finding farm hands for the rush work following the recent rainy weather when both planting and harvesting were delayed.

The administrator also reminded workers of the WPA rule that any man working for WPA who refuses to take private employment under "reasonable" working conditions is automatically cut off the WPA rolls.

Any farmer who desires help off the WPA forces may obtain men by applying to the foreman of the nearest project, Casteel said.

BALGOA, C. Z., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The U. S. 15th Naval District ordered its patrols on the alert today following receipt in maritime circles of unconfirmed reports that a British operated Yugoslav ship had been attacked in the Pacific, apparently by an axis raider.

The ship attacked, according to these unconfirmed reports, was the 4,375-ton Olga Topic.

Naval circles reported that officers of a Greek vessel arriving here told of hearing the Olga Topic sending an SOS reporting she was being attacked.

The Olga Topic left Balboa Nov. 13, and was believed to be sailing down the Pacific coast of South America en route to Iquique, Chile.

Rear Admiral Frank Sadler, commanding the naval district, said he also had heard the reports, that he was seeking confirmation, and that he had informed "our people out there."

"I think I can assure you," he added, "that if a raider is operating in that area it will not be operating there long."

Asked whether the dragnet was out, he replied affirmatively. He added that the naval attaché at Lima, Peru, also had been put on the alert.

Lewis Challenges Congressmen To Meet His 'Outside' And Call Him A Traitor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—John L. Lewis informed President Roosevelt by letter today that the United Mine Workers had refused to accept an open shop agreement in the captive coal mines because it would "invalidate" other agreements in operation throughout the soft coal mining industry.

He told the president that officers of the union had no authority to execute an open shop agreement, "thereby destroying the assets of the membership represented by existing collective bargaining agreements."

The union shop was the sole issue in the dispute which culminated in a work stoppage today in the captive mines.

Lewis did not call at the White House, as he had been requested to do when Mr. Roosevelt asked last Friday that negotiations be extended over the weekend in an eleventh hour attempt to halt the threatened shutdowns in captive mines which supply coal to steel mills.

Conferred With President

The three representatives of the steel companies, Eugene G. Grace of the Bethlehem Steel company, Frank Purnell, head of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, and Benjamin Fairless of United States Steel company, conferred at the White House with President Roosevelt for nearly an hour.

They announced they would send a formal report this afternoon to be made public at the president's convenience.

Asked whether it would be a joint statement, Fairless replied: "Yes, sir. And there are no differences of opinion, may I add."

He branded as "an absolute falsehood" Lewis' statement that United States Steel was ready to

Ambassador From Russia Arrives

TEHERAN, Iran, Nov. 17.—(AP)—A plane bearing Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet ambassador to the United States, and U. S. Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt landed here safely at noon today, five days after departing from Kuibyshev, Russia, in a snowstorm.

The plane also carried Sir Walter Monckton, a British information service officer, and two American journalists, Quentin Reynolds of Colliers magazine and Alice Moats.

(The party of Americans, British and Russians aboard totaled 12 according to earlier advices from Teheran.)

The plane stopped the first night in Astrakhan, on the Caspian sea, three nights in Baku to the south and last night in Pahlevi, Iran, on the 1,300-mile trip. It twice ran the length of a flooded Pehlevi Field before getting into the air today in crossing the Elburz mountains from the Caspian to Teheran.

Mrs. Litvinoff, who is English by birth, made the trip with her husband despite illness.

(In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Litvinoff, Steinhardt, Monckton, Reynolds and Miss Moats, the plane had been reported assigned to carry Anthony Greenwood, Manckton's secretary and a son of the British statesman, Arthur Greenwood; British Wing Commander Halliwell; a Captain Bell of the British embassy in Jibushy; Philip Jordan, a British journalist; and Mohamed Saad, Iranian ambassador to Moscow.)

Snow, ice, sleet, zero weather and gales plagued the flight, Monckton said.

CIO Defies Roosevelt's Injunction That Mines 'Must' Keep Operating

sign, while Purnell added that "That also goes for us, 100 percent."

Press Criticized
Heatedly, Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, criticized the press for its handling of the coal dispute story and reporting rumors of a difference of opinion among steel executives.

"It is the first time in my experience with the press," he said, "that you didn't play fair. That is, for those of you to whom it applies, I definitely told you that there was no difference of opinion."

He was advised that "We quoted you to that effect."

"Some didn't," Grace snapped, his voice heavy with displeasure.

Commercial coal mines, which unlike the captives, sell their product in the open market, are operating under a union shop agreement.

Blames Steel Executives
At the time the letter to the president was released, Lewis was telling the U.M.W. policy committee that he blamed the present strife in the coal pits squarely on President Eugene G. Grace of the Bethlehem Steel company.

Lewis, addressing an open meeting of the U. M. W. policy committee, said he was convinced Benjamin Fairless of United States Steel company and Frank Purnell, head of Youngstown Sheet and Tube company were ready to sign the union shop agreement, but were prevented by "that sinister figure Grace."

Lewis was roundly cheered by the 200 members of the policy committee that "the fight of the U.M.W. is with the steel companies and not with our government as some would say."

The U. M. W. members halted nearly all production today in the captive mines which supply the nation's largest steel companies—openly defying President Roosevelt's injunction that coal "must" be mined.

"Union Shop Inevitable"
Lewis declared that some day, inevitably, the union shop (requiring all miners to become union members) would be achieved, but said this time would not come until industrialists and congressmen "understand that the army is not going to shoot our people and the soldiers are not going to mine coal."

Turning to reports of possible congressional action, and referring to members of Congress who have demanded anti-strike legislation, Lewis said:

"Then why should a Connolly of Texas, a Cox of Georgia or a Smith of Virginia, coming from an area where the citizens are deprived of the opportunity to vote by the economic sanction of the poll tax, come forward and call the president of the U.M.W. a traitor to our flag and to our government?"

Challenges Congressmen
"I laugh at such a charge and I challenge the Connollys, the Smiths and the Coxes to absent themselves from their congressional immunity and walk up to John Lewis and call him a traitor."

The meeting exploded in a roar of cheers and applause, some members rising to their feet and calling:

"That goes for us, too, John."

On Capitol Hill at the same time, Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), acting chairman of the House Rules committee, called on Congress to act swiftly on defense strike curbing legislation without awaiting settlement of the "captive" coal mine tie up because President Roosevelt "is still in the talking stage."

Must Settle Labor
Cox made that statement in opening a rules committee hearing on the administration's long delayed price control bill and served notice that the committee might decide to "put the lid" on that measure until the question of labor legislation had been settled.

The U.M.W. chief declared: "The steel executives obviously believed (when the weekend conferences were underway) that the military establishment of the United States was to be placed behind them in their attitude of resisting collective bargaining contracts based on a union shop relation."

Lewis told his chieftains that the parleys in the Wardman Park hotel with Grace, Fairless and Purnell constituted an odd conference.

Wouldn't Give In
"There were only three companies there and they asserted they represented themselves," he said. "They are competitive, and there are some harsh feuds between them x x x but there wasn't a chance that either of those companies would say to us in the presence of the others, 'we'll agree.'"

"From information which was not gained in the conference with the steel representatives," he continued, "but gained from various sources x x x it is my considered opinion that United States Steel corporation wants to sign this contract, and that the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company wants to sign. But that Mr. Eugene G. Grace—that multimillion dollar executive with $1,200,000,000 in government orders —is standing there unchanged, unaffected, cold-bloodedly determined to prevent any settlement if he can on the basis of a union shop in the coal company."

Blames Mediation Board
"These steel companies are just waiting for someone to say to them that they should settle, it has been obvious for some time that they were prepared to settle with the U.M.W. if the National Defense Mediation Board had had the strength of character to render a just decision in this case."

"But because the board stultified itself in this decision, it left the companies without a chance to save face and sign this contract."

U.M.W.'s decision brought the current labor crisis to a breaking point. Storm signals were flying in Congress and the capital waited momentarily for the president to order decisive counter-measures.

White House Silent
The White House was silent, pending formal notification of the collapse of settlement negotiations, but Mr. Roosevelt already has given his pledge to Congress that "The government proposes to see this thing through" and keep the mines operating, regardless of the negotiations outcome.

There was a widespread belief that the president was ready to order the army to take over the captive mines. His weekend conference with War Secretary Stimson and staff officers were looked on as indications of this intention, but the War Department refused to discuss the matter.

Pledged Support
DETROIT, Nov. 17.—(P)—Delegates to the CIO's fourth annual national convention adopted their executive board's resolution of unqualified support for the United Mine Operators without a dissenting voice today.

The rules of the convention were suspended that the endorsement of the mine workers might be approved by the convention at large during its opening session.

Two American liners will call at Shanghai next week to remove 200 U. S. citizens to Manila and probably U. S. Marines, who are expected to be taken from their China stations to the Philippines.

General Hideki Tojo, premier of Japan, told the diet:

The new government expects third powers to "refrain from obstructing" Japan's successful conclusion of the China affair; it expects nations which erected blockades to restore economic relations with Japan, and it expects that the utmost efforts will be exerted to prevent extension of the European war and the spread of disturbances in East Asia.

Little Time Left
Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo said little time was left.

"There is naturally a limit to our conciliatory attitude," he added.

In Russia, Germans claimed they had captured Kherch, easternmost city in the Crimea and the entire eastern portion of the peninsula which lies close to the oil-rich Caucasus.

The Russians reported that counterattacks forced back Nazi troops in the zones of Kalinin and Tikhvin.

With soldiers floundering through snow and icy winds, Kuibyshev reports said a determined Russian counterattack, in what was called the most important battle of the war, threw back a German drive into Tikhvin, a junction on the railway linking Leningrad, Archangel and Moscow and a possible route for British and American war supplies.

An axis merchantman which sailed the South Atlantic under false colors, the Stars and Stripes of the U. S., limped to this country under navy escort after Americans halted an attempt to scuttle her.

She was stopped by a U. S. cruiser November 6 in equatorial waters.

The Rev. Paul L. Miller, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, will deliver the sermon in the place of Rev. J. M. Vander Meulen, who was to speak, but who will be out of the city.

Plans were also completed for the dinner for the ministers and their wives, which will be given in Smithton, Monday night.

Test Suit Filed On Burial Insurance
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 17.—(P)—Attorney General Roy McKittick today filed an ouster suit against the Barry County Burial Association of Cassville as a test case to determine the status of numerous similar organizations selling burial insurance to an estimated 700,000 Missourians.

The suit charged Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Koon and Wilson Bradley since 1934 have unlawfully "usurped" the privilege of selling burial insurance without legal authority and asked the state supreme court to oust them from business and to fine them.

Sam M. Jordan Dies Sunday

Samuel M. Jordan, 80, who was county agent of Missouri's first Farm Bureau in Sedalia in 1912, died at his home in Columbia Sunday. He had pioneered in Farm Bureau and agriculture extension work and was known throughout the state as the "Missouri Corn Man."

Funeral services will be held in Columbia at 2 p. m. Tuesday, after which the body will be taken to St. Louis for cremation.

Mr. Jordan is survived by his widow, one son, George F. Jordan, St. Louis; one daughter, Mrs. John G. Alspaugh, Columbia, and a sister, Mrs. Dale Flowers, Albany.

After teaching in the public schools of Gentry county, Mr. Jordan moved to a farm because of failing health. His work in corn breeding and soil improvement attracted the attention of the Missouri College of Agriculture here and the State Board of Agriculture at Jefferson City, and he was named a lecturer for the board in 1905.

He conducted an agricultural column in the old twice-a-week edition of the St. Louis Republic for several years, and continued that work in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat after it absorbed the Republic.

He held, in 1908, one of the first encampments of farm boys and organized a club which was a forerunner of the present boys' and girls' 4-H clubs, and in 1912, when a group of Pettis county farmers and Sedalia business men organized the Pettis County Farm Bureau, he accepted the position of county agent there, pioneering in the development of the agricultural extension service.

Legion Plans Year's Work

Smith-Cotton high school band members, Buddy Arnold and Rudolph Grother.

Two services were held, one where the American Legion pays tribute to its departed member the evening before the funeral services, and the second was the graveside service, which includes firing a three-volley salute and sounding of taps.

Although the tenseness of the World condition today was on the lips of every veteran, it was scarcely mentioned during the business sessions.

Mentions Fifth Columnists
Charles L. Wilson, Assistant National Director of Americanism for the Legion, from National Headquarters at Indianapolis, Indiana, spoke and his talks were strictly on the lines of Americanism and what the Legion should do in furthering the program. He made reference to the fifth columnist, and those persons who are pushing un-American ideas in this country. He cited various incidents of the present World War where countries were overthrown because of the lack of patriotism for their own government.

Milt E. Campbell, Assistant National Director on Defense, Indianapolis, outlined the National Defense program sponsored by the American Legion and repeated in part his talk given last Saturday night at the banquet held at Liberty Park.

Talks and Reports
Others who spoke and gave reports were John B. Gratewell, chairman on membership, St. Louis; Col. Charles A. Shaw, State National Defense Director, Clayton; James S. Gray, School Awards, St. Louis; Lloyd King, state superintendent of schools, in charge of the State Oratorical Contest, Jefferson City; John K. Walsh, State Americanism Director, Jefferson City; James E. Meador, Child Welfare, Cape Girardeau; Harry C. Todson, Rehabilitation Commission, Joplin; William B. Stone, Publishing and Printing Board, Kansas City.

L. I. Morris, Seventh District Commander, announced a meeting of the District in Sedalia on November 30.

Women's Resolutions
The Auxiliary at its meeting which was also largely attended was closed with the adoption of resolutions.

Passed Resolutions
The Resolutions committee of the auxiliary presented resolutions which were adopted and extended to the following: Mrs. Leo Kroencke, president of the 7th district; Mrs. Homer Hall, president of Pettis County Unit No. 16; Mrs. L. R. Bailey, members of that unit; Mrs. E. W. Richardson, local chairman of arrangements; Mrs. Robert B. Wood, Mrs. William A. Monegan, Mrs. A. R. Beach and her Singing Scouts; Miss Elynn Beach, Miss Betty Lou Woods, Andy Costello, and children of veterans, for entertainment; Miss Nora Walker and Miss Nell Walker for banquet favors; Mrs. Paul Zink, president of the PTA council and members of seven associations of Sedalia; Dr. J. E. Cannaday, Mrs. Charles W. Green; Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and all others for the services each has given.

The Resolutions committee was composed of Mrs. L. V. Price, chairman, Mrs. Robert Johnson, and Mrs. Carl Holz.

Meeting Postponed
The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be postponed due to the illness of the president, Mrs. Homer Hall.

House May Take Action On Strikes drafting a new bill they intend to lay before the administration shortly.

At the same time, Chairman Norton (D-NJ) called a meeting of the house labor committee for tomorrow to consider whether to initiate anti-strike legislation.

A scheduled house rules committee meeting, ostensibly to consider the pending price control bill, afforded an opportunity today for a free discussion of the labor situation, regardless of the outcome of the captive coal mine crisis.

Chairman Sabath (D-Ill) said he would be out of the city and asked Rep. Cox (D-Ga) to preside at the committee meeting. Cox, one of the strongest critics of the administration's labor policy, remarked that most of the committee's time would be devoted to that subject.

Fine Dogs Die Of Suffocation
Three hunting dogs, one belonging to Fred F. Wesner, one to his son, Bob, met their death Sunday by suffocation, while being taken, in a car, to the country by Bob and his uncle, Elmer Herrmann.

The dogs were all fine bred registered animals, Westmoreland Peggys II, owned by Mr. Wesner, Muscle Shoals Nellie and Carolina Buck, owned by Bob.

The dogs were being conveyed in the rear of the car, where a ventilator usually carried the proper air to them, but the equipment apparently became defective on this occasion.

Fire At Church This Morning
Two fire alarms were answered Sunday, and one shortly before noon today. The fire this morning was at the Sacred Heart Catholic church, Moniteau avenue and Third street, where a wooden partition in the basement caught fire.

Damage of about $25 resulted to the partition and the basement ceiling while the church proper was filled with smoke and some damage might result from this.

Sunday at 12:25 o'clock in the afternoon the companies made a run to the residence of George Gehle, 1834 South Warren, where gas and leaves were burning. No damage resulting.

At 2:50 o'clock in the afternoon the companies were called to Bertman's Coal and Transfer Co., 500 West Main street, where burning leaves had set fire to a fence. Slight damage resulted.

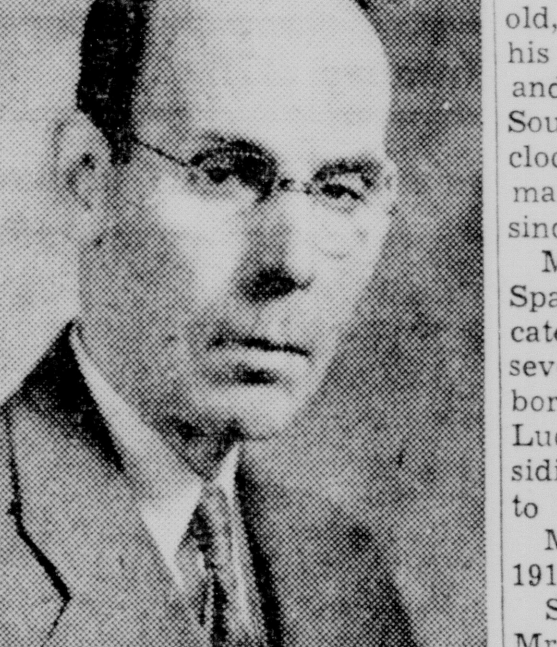

Loses Eye While On Hunting Trip
DEXTER, Mo., Nov. 17.—(P)—Herbert Thrower, 35, well-known local insurance man and automobile dealer, suffered loss of his left eye and wounds about the body when he was accidentally shot yesterday while bird hunting with three other men. Doctors treating him said one shot passed through the left eyeball. A number of shot hit his left side and arm but those wounds are not considered serious.

National defense demands have caused a shortage of material from which diapers are made. Looks as if the babies will barely get by.

Answers
1. Yes, until she remarries again.
2. Mrs. John Brown.
3. No.
4. No.
5. Yes.

New Name For New Bombs
LONDON, Nov. 17.—(P)—Belgian sources here said today they had learned the Germans are calling Britain's new, heavy bombs "bezirksbombers"—meaning section bombs—because their terrific blasts mow down whole sections of towns.

Belgian women commandeered to work in Germany have returned to Belgium, they said, with reports of great destruction from British bombings of Hamburg, Kiel, Cologne, Aachen, Munster, Frankfurt, Mannheim and Berlin.

Stocks Shuffled Nervously Today
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Labor clouds overshadowed the war news as a market factor today and leading stocks shuffled nervously over an irregular route.

Except for tobacco issues, which developed further weakness, price changes either way were narrow. The list was unable to pick a direction at the start and, while favorites managed to add modest advances, losers were numerous at the close.

Dealings were relatively slow throughout except for sizeable blocks of low priced stocks. Transfers were around 600,000 shares.

The coal strike, with possible serious repercussions in steel and other industries, tended to dim the bullish urge for some customers, brokers suggested.

Society And Clubs

The Knob Noster Baptist church was a scene of beauty for the marriage of Miss Jean Frances Carr, of Kansas City, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter James Carr, of Knob Noster, to Jack David Conboy, son of Mrs. Sadie Kirkpatrick of Kansas City, which was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Sunday evening. Bankings of woodwardia ferns graced the altar and white cathedral tapers burned in tall candelabra. Rev. D. H. Howerton of Kansas City, a former Knob Noster Baptist pastor, officiated. Mrs. Lewis J. Maledon of Warrensburg sang "Because" and "At Dawning", accompanied by Miss Mary V. Hogan. Miss Hogan played the traditional processional and recessional.

The bride who entered with her father, wore a gown of gardenia white faille, fashioned Princess lines, high neck edged with a small pointed collar, tiny buttons down the front of the fitted bodice, long sleeves that tapered to a point over the hand and a bouffant skirt that extended into a long train. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of white Fuji chrysanthemums.

Miss Patricia Cross, of Kansas City, attended as maid of honor. She wore a gown of cedar velvet and carried pale yellow chrysanthemums and Joanna Hill roses.

The bride's attendants were Miss Mary Parker, Miss Fern Bandy, Miss Marcella Nelson and Miss Norma Butterfield of Kansas City and were gowned alike in sage green velvet and carried colonial bouquets of talesman roses and bronze chrysanthemums. In their hair they wore a matching cluster of chrysanthemums with a velvet bow.

Harold Cowan of Kansas City attended Mr. Conboy as best man, with Messrs Irving Schultz, John Montrose Kendrick, M. Terry Anderson and Walter John Walsh of Kansas City, groomsmen.

The bride's mother wore a costume of soldier blue with blue accessories and a corsage of gardenia and Joanna Hill roses. Mrs. Kirkpatrick also chose blue with black accessories. Her corsage of gardenia and Joanna Hill roses completed her attire.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was covered with a cloth of Italian cutwork, centered with a bouquet of white chrysanthemums with crystal candelabra holding white tapers at either side. A small table, covered with a cloth of Italian cutwork held the large four tiered satin iced wedding cake. Mrs. Earl A. Sappington had charge of the cake and Mrs. John T. Cheatham of Warrensburg poured coffee.

The bride wore, on leaving for a trip, a costume suit of olive green wool with Kolinsky scarfs and brown accessories.

After November 21st, they will be at home in Kansas City where Mr. Conboy is with the Keith Furniture Co.

Is your child a NOSE PICKER?

It may be more than just a nasty habit! It may be a sign of worms. Yes, ugly, crawling roundworms inside your child! Other warning signs are fidgeting, "picky" appetite, crankiness, itching in certain parts. Roundworms can cause real trouble! If you even suspect your child has them, get Jayne's Vermifuge right away! Jayne's is America's best known proprietary worm medicine. Scientifically tested and used by millions for over a century. It expels stubborn worms, yet acts very gently. If no worms are there, Jayne's acts merely as a mild laxative. Be sure you get Jayne's Vermifuge.

WASHINGTON—To get the proper perspective on Rep. Ham Fish and his hiding behind the skirts of congressional immunity, it is necessary to know something about his background and recent activities.

Hamilton Fish comes from an old aristocratic New York family which can trace its ancestry back as far as that of his Hudson Valley neighbor's Franklin D. Roosevelt. Fish's grandfather was secretary of state in the Grant administration and in general his family has not been the kind to hide behind the skirts of anyone. Fish, however, has assumed a thin-skinned attitude of late whenever anyone practised the right of comment regarding his multitudinous and interesting activities.

Last year when these columnists exposed the fact that Mr. Fish rented his New York mansion, inherited from his father, to the Nazi consul general, the congressman exercised his congressional privilege of castigating the authors on the floor of the House, where he is immune from prosecution.

More recently, the congressman proclaimed to the world that he would be delighted to appear before the grand jury investigating Nazi propaganda which discovered that Fish's franked mail was being used by a Nazi-financed committee. But later, when the grand jury issued the invitation, Mr. Fish did not accept. And when finally the jury issued a subpoena, he rushed to his colleagues with the cry of congressional immunity.

Congress is like a big club. The Senate is now engaged in looking into the affairs of Senator Langer of North Dakota to see whether he is qualified for membership in the club. But once a member qualifies and enters the club's portals every other member rushes to defend him. In the end this loyalty toward the congressional chosen may have tragic consequences to our democratic system.

In Germany, the people did not get a dictator until after they had lost confidence in their Reichstag. And France did not fall until after the French people had become sick and disgusted with their Chamber of Deputies. The last thing the House of Representatives can afford is to make the same mistake either for the sake of one club member or a group of club members.

Gunned In Quito
Popular Representatives Jack Houston of Kansas and Vince Harrington of Iowa learned a lot about good neighbor relations on their recent trip through South America with a House Appropriations sub-committee. They also had a hair-raising thrill they will never forget.

It happened in Ecuador. During a stop-over at Quito, the capital city, the two congressmen and Jack McFall, committee clerk who accompanied the party, decided they would take a drive through the surrounding countryside to "find out how Ecuadorians really live." The trio fared forth in a taxi hired for the day.

As they were passing an airfield a few miles outside of Quito, an airplane suddenly swooped down from the sky and began spraying the field with machine gun bullets.

"Peruvani! Peruvani!" yelled the driver, as he bolted out of the car and made for a clump of trees. His American passengers, who had almost forgotten that an undeclared war was on between Peru and Ecuador, were not far behind. The attacking plane made several more dives and then flew away.

The driver returned to his cab, lighted a cigarette and climbed behind the wheel. "Well, señores," he said smilingly, "we go on, eh?" "To hell with that," snorted Houston. "Let's go back to Quito and find a bomb cellar."

Army Pay
When a regular officer of the navy, marine corps and the coast guard is promoted to a temporary rank—as hundreds of them have been the past year—he automatically gets the higher pay of that rank. But the same rule does not hold for the army.

Regular army officers given temporary promotions continue to draw the pay of their "permanent" rank, despite added work, responsibilities, and expense. Behind this little-known and unfair discrimination is an amazing story of a one-man legislative blockade that has never been told.

For months Rep. Charles I. Faddis, die-hard

Pennsylvanian and defender of the Aluminum Corporation of America, has blocked a bill that would place army officers on the same pay basis as those of the other branches of the military service.

Faddis has fought the bill from the moment it was introduced in the House Military Affairs committee. He opposed it at the hearings last spring and since then, as chairman of a sub-committee to which the measure was referred, has persistently blocked every effort to get action on the legislation. What's more, he has virtually served notice on the rest of the committee that he doesn't intend to have the bill considered.

The Pennsylvanian is cagy about admitting the reasons for his opposition, but the main reason may be summed up in one sentence: He is a colonel in the army reserve corps. To grasp the significance of this, a little background is necessary.

Some reserve officers have resented temporary promotions of regular officers, chiefly because they are ineligible for such promotions themselves. The move to give the regulars the pay of their temporary ranks, therefore, is like waving a red flag in the faces of the miffed reservists.

Reservist Champion
Faddis is probably the most ardent reservist in Congress. He battles for the reserve corps even more vigorously than he did for the Aluminum Corporation several months ago. He left no doubts about his militant pro-reservist feelings during the hearings last spring when he furiously upbraided an army officer, appearing as a witness, for saying something Faddis interpreted as a slap at the reserve corps. Faddis heatedly demanded that the officer's remark be expunged from the record.

Recently he had another sharp tiff with Rep. Overton Brooks of Louisiana, sponsor of the pay equalization bill, who jumped Faddis in a closed-door session of the Military Affairs committee. Brooks charged Faddis was "trying to kill" the bill. Faddis angrily replied that "more hearings were necessary."

"Then why don't you hold them," demanded Brooks. "You've been stalling on this legislation for months. I'd like to ask the gentleman right now when he plans to consider this urgent bill?"

"When I get around to it," barked Faddis. NOTE: Faddis by no means reflects the sentiment of the entire reserve corps. A number of leaders, including Dr. James Hollers of San Antonio, national president of the Reserve Officers association, have privately endorsed the Brooks bill.

Buying a Town on Shares

Home-seekers are buying, not individual homes for themselves, but equity shares in the whole community of Audubon Park, New Jersey.

It's a new plan devised chiefly by Col. Lawrence Westbrook of the Federal Works Administration, sponsored by the federal government, and ready for application to eight other similar projects. The buyer makes monthly payments of from $24 to $36 a month and this money goes not toward buying the house he lives in, but into a general fund for amortization of a $1,500,000 mortgage on the whole community. When the mortgage is paid up, each holder will own not a house of his own, but paid-up ownership shares in the community.

How this new plan will work, time alone will tell. It could conceivably revolutionize real estate practice. It is one of the new ways of doing things which are going to be tried out in increasing numbers in coming years, for better or worse.

Alice Through the Cellophane

Now the use of cellophane is going to be cut down because the chemicals of which it is made are required in the defense program.

There may be cases in which this restriction will work genuine hardship, but there are other cases in which it will be a blessing in disguise. We've seen packages, both the mechanically wrapped trade kind and the home-wrapped gift variety, in which cellophane was used not to protect the goods merely, not even purely for decorative effect, but obviously in a malign and sinister plot to baffle the recipient. We've seen strong men, after minutes of futile clawing and pawing at such a package, tear out their hair by the handfuls and then just sit down and howl like a banshee. Those who have made a sensible use of that highly useful material, cellophane, may be put out by the new restrictions, but in some cases a little restriction is going to be just a plain relief.

Horace Mann PTA Meets Last Friday

Richard Keenan Speaks After Music Program Given

The Horace Mann Parent-Teacher Association met Friday night with Mrs. T. E. Harris, the president presiding.

The meeting was opened by all singing "The Star Spangled Banner," with Mrs. Henry C. Salter, veteran at the piano, who also led in a very clever "round by round" song, Miss Rosemary Whalen, a student at Smith-Cotton high school, played two violin solos. Poem, by Fibich, and Intermezzo, by Mascagni. She was accompanied by Bobby Overstreet.

The devotional was given by Leonard Hall, who read from scripture, and followed with a short talk on "Child Development of a child."

The treasurer, Mrs. F. T. Rucker reported a balance of $101.12. Mrs. Arthur Spraggin, chairman of the membership drive reported a membership of 118, twenty-two of that number being fathers.

Miss Leota Alexander's room, grade two, received the award of $1.00 for having the largest per cent of members.

An unusual and attractive membership chart, made by the art teacher, Miss Joyce Lynn, was on display.

Mrs. Dan Carr, program chairman, introduced the speaker of the evening, Richard Keenan, a member of the Sedalia Board of Education, whose subject was "Know Your School."

His introductory remarks were based on the motto in Horace Mann school P. T. A. year book, "I wish, I can, I will." He said the P. T. A. is one of the finest organizations, and has more worth while goals than any other organization. He also spoke on taxes, and read some statistics showing how taxes are spent. He spoke enthusiastically on supervised recreation, which he said is the answer to the problem child.

He expressed the hope that there will some time in the near future be a gymnasium in every school in Sedalia. He closed his remarks with an original poem.

A social hour followed, during which the entertainment committee served refreshments.

Program Notes For Symphony Concert

BY DR. HARRY S. MAY
RUSSIAN AND LUDMILLA
(Overture) Michael Ivan. Glinka

Glinka laid the foundation of the modern Russian school of music. He was born June 2, 1803 at Novo-Spaskoje, near Smolensk. Although he is not the most prolific among the Russian composers, he was the first one who set himself the task of writing "National Opera." His contribution to the musical heritage of his country cannot be overestimated.

The success of Glinka's first opera caused him to write another one, Russian and Ludmilla, to which this work belongs. The first performance of this opera took place in November 1842; and although this work was not so enthusiastically received as his first opera—the music was doubtless superior. His orchestration was phantastic, yet yet without violence, rich and very full of color.

One distinctive feature of this overture is that it remains in one tempo, Presto. Any monotony that might be occasioned by this fact is overcome by the marvelous effect of the contrast, which gives the work an unsurpassed vitality.

PEER GYNT SUITE
Edward Greig (1843-1907)

1. Morning
2. Asa's Death
3. Anitra's Dance
4. In the Hall of the Mountain King.

The music of Iben's Peer Gynt was written for a performance for that play; was at first published in the form of a pianoforte-duet, and afterwards turned into two orchestral suites of remarkably musical and picturesque character, which are perhaps the most popular of all his works. The strange haunting harmonies of Asa's Death have an almost magical effect, and in Anitra's Dance there is an oriental character which appearing again in the fine song "Die Odaliske" is very attractive.

It might be contended that the few instances in which a musical coloring other than Norwegian has been employed are those which have the deepest to American (Sibelius), but it is incontestable that it is by this more "nationalistic" music that Grieg has won the esteem and appreciation of musicians at large.

A social hour followed, during which the entertainment committee served refreshments.

ERI TU (BALLO IN MASCHERA or MASKED BALL)

Giuseppe Verdi (1813-1901)
Auber's success with the opera of the same name inspired Verdi to try his hand at it too. Verdi laid the scene in Boston (His friend Piave wrote the libretto).

Tom-toms drive you NUTS!

It is said that no man can stand the monotonous beat of jungle drums. At first the rhythm interests you, then it gets on your nerves. When you hear it all day long you're hypnotized. The second day you go berserk and will follow any leader the same as the savage does.

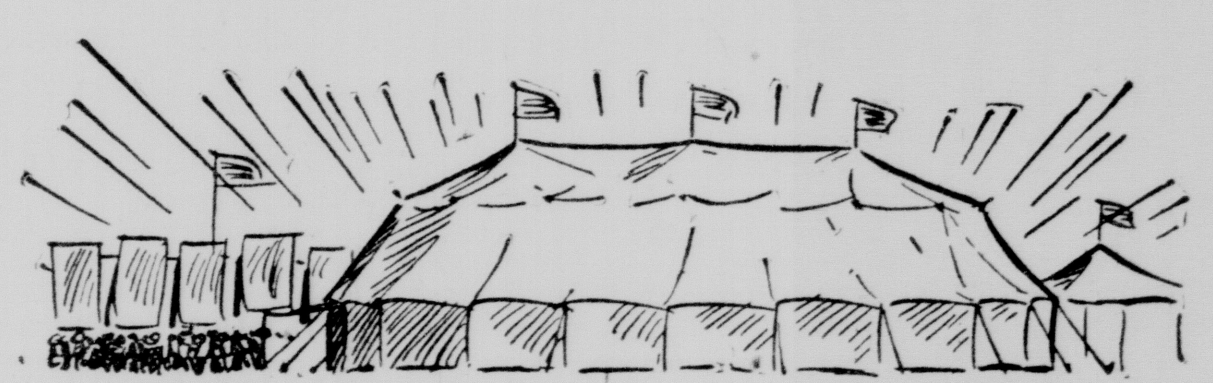

Dictators know what "beating the drums" does to people. So they take their pet slogans and put them on the radio. They shut off all other listening. They disregard all the facts, all opinions except their own and repeat the same slogans over and over in their newspapers.

Here's how Hitler says to do it, in his famous book, "MEIN KAMPF":

"The great masses' understanding is small, their forgetfulness is great. All effective propaganda must limit itself to only a very few points and use them like slogans until every last man is able to imagine what is intended."

Compare this with YOUR newspaper. It is filled with a thousand interesting and varied facts. It prints the opinions of all sorts—even HITLER'S opinions! But there is no monotonous beating of the tom-toms of propaganda in it!

Variety, interest, color—and with them a high degree of RELIABILITY—that is what an American newspaper offers. It's like a three-ring circus; something doing every minute.

Next time you hear someone proposing to hand the control of America's free press over to some one-sided group, no matter WHAT group, remember this tom-tom story. Remember that America CAN'T be hypnotized and misled as long as its people are free to read, hear and discuss all sides of every question.

Read, each Tuesday in this space, the messages about your liberty and how America's newspapers help you defend it. Your letters of comment will be appreciated by the editor and by this committee—Newspaper Publishers Committee, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City.

Serial Story . . .
For the Love Of Pete!
. . . by Burton Benjamin
Copyright 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: No longer popular with teammates, classmates is star State footballer Pete Laird, pursued by movie actress Stephanie Stevens, who is also using him for his publicity value. His head turned by her attentions, he estranges his college sweetheart, Anne Humphreys, his best friend and captain, George Landers, Coach Dinty Dugan is already worried about team morale when Pete and George have a fight over Anne, who has turned to George in her unhappiness, and George's shoulder is injured, forcing him out of play. George soothes the anger of teammates against Pete, now a lone wolf and interested only in Stephanie, and State, through Pete's brilliant play, chugs along fairly well without George until the game with Minnesota. Landers, back with the team, is injured again. "Let's see what you can do now, big shot," a player growls at Pete.

A DOUBLE UPSET:
CHAPTER XI
TWO resounding whacks at the line and Minnesota was over for a touchdown. Ed Walczak, battering 220-pound fullback, plowed across on a straight center plunge. Disconsolately Pete Laird saw State's line sag and realized the crew was being outcharged for the first time that year.
The Gophers kicked goal and after less than one minute of play, State—those vaunted bone-crushers of football—trailed by seven points. Laird's throat was dry.
The ball catapulted down field, and Pete Laird speared it on the five. State players moved ahead but there was none of the scythe-like blocking to shake Laird loose. A golden wave buried him on the 20 and buried him hard. He felt as if a tank had hit him broadside. Ponderous Heinie Dober of Minnesota got up from the bottom of the pile and chortled.
"Well, if it ain't the Hollywood lover! Take it easy on pretty-boy, fellows. You're liable to spoil his makeup." The others snorted. His cheeks burning, Laird picked himself up and walked back into the huddle.
"Give me that ball," he whispered out of the corner of his mouth to young Roskauer, the quarterback. The kid nodded and called a reverse.
The ball was snapped to Tullio who started right and handed it to Pete. Pete lowered his head and tried to butt a brick wall. Three Gopher huskies piled him up for a three-yard loss.
"Ain't he cute!" grinned the ever-present Dober. "Pretty, too."
It was that way throughout the quarter. Laird called on every trick at his command. He butted, spun, dodged, twisted—but he couldn't shake loose the Gophers.
Besides the physical pounding, Laird was taking an incessant

In either versions you'll like the pieced bodice treatment which gives the longer waistline effect, the side sashes tying in back which assures the smoothness through the midriff. The contrast collar is always flattering.

Stamps for the little British possession were issued last year for the first time. The issue above shows a view of the island from the sea. In the upper right-hand corner is an inset of Fletcher Christian, founder of the colony on Pitcairn.

History has it that Christian and eight fellow seamen who had mutinied aboard Capt. William Bligh's ship, the Bounty, sought refuge on Pitcairn. The mutineers took with them from Tahiti six Tahitian men and about a dozen native women.

Since that time the descendants of the European males and the

Now Talking Rose Bowl For Tigers

Their Defeat of Oklahoma Has Big Bearing On 'Invite'

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 17.—(P)— Feelers for bowl games, something a successful coach expects but dislikes to admit before the season is entirely closed, are almost certain to reach Missouri this week.

Some observers think one for the Rose Bowl will be included.
Why not? Missouri has as much to offer, in some respects much more, than some contenders. And after a weekend of nose dives—like the one Texas took from T. C. U.—Missouri should get right in line.

Hitting Their Peak
Hitting their peak, the Tigers took apart Oklahoma to see what made it tick. That 28-0 score shows there wasn't a tick to start with. It was Missouri's 14th successive home victory and it came over a team that had won five games, including a masterpiece over Santa Clara, by rolling up 144 points and holding foes to six. The darkest blot on the Sooners' record before this one was a 40-7 lacing by Texas.

Missouri, too, has lost one—a 12-7 setback in an opener with Ohio State. And had that game lasted another minute, the story may have been different, for the Tigers were clawing away at the end stripe when the final gun barked.

Since then, Missouri has won seven in a row, averaging nearly 25 points a game; has limited opponents to a total of 19, which speaks for its sturdy line, and has become the nation's leading running team.

Missouri Has Thrills Bowl customers search for thrills, and Missouri can produce them, ranging from long runs and passes to coffin corner punts.

Instead of one outstanding back,
it has three—Bob Steuber, sophomore Red Wade and Harry Ice.
It's forward wall includes two men who are the toast of writers in this section as well as in the east—Captain Darold Jenkins, center, and guard Robert Jeffries.

The trio of backs made 207 yards against Oklahoma as Missouri boosted its rushing work to an aggregate of 2,332 for the season.

Wade collected three touchdowns, two on characteristic long dashes, to become the second best scorer in the Big Six with 48 points. Steuber tossed a 28-yard touchdown pass, kicked four extra points to keep his scoring leadership with 52, which is four more than Oklahoma's Johnny Martin made last year.

Missouri Exponent of "T" Ice stood out on defense, punted the ball out on the 2-yard line and stole two passes for his day's work.

Touchdowns Are Grim Business To Wade

Maurice Wade (11), Tiger quarterback, gnashes his teeth, sets his jaw and digs his cleats into the gridiron for this one-yard dash across the goal line and the second of his three touchdowns against Oklahoma in Missouri's 28 to 0 rout of the Sooners in their Big Six conference game at Columbia. Wade had other things to think about at this moment, so perhaps you'll pardon him for not straightening out the headgear until later.

before Washington State, Missouri also can step out at the No. 1 exponent of the T formation. It is strictly a version of Don Faurot's without a man in motion.

There are several unbeaten teams awaiting bowl invitations.
They include Texas Aggies, who yet must play Texas, Duquesne and Duke, whose schedules are not as rugged as Missouri's. And there is a host of strong teams beaten only once. But do they have three dazzling runners to thrill the crowds?

Missouri must defeat Kansas
Saturday to win the Big Six title outright. They captured it in 1939 and went to the Orange Bowl; Oklahoma took it the year before and also went to the Orange Bowl, and Nebraska claimed it last year and rode to the Rose Bowl.

Other Saturday games put Kansas State at Iowa State, Tom Stidham's Marquette at Oklahoma in one of the big intersectional dates of the season and Iowa at Nebraska.

Denzel Gibbons scored twice, once on an 83-yard run, and Ralph Miller made 201 yards with 12 passes as Kansas cracked Kansas State 20-16. Nebraska dropped its fifth game in a row, 14-7 to Pitt, as Edgar Jones filched a pass in the fading seconds and raced to a touchdown.

Paul Darling tallied all of Iowa State's points, but one more was needed as Drake won 14-13 to end the Cyclones' perfect intersectional record.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 17.—(P)—
The MCAU football conference with Missouri Valley on the throne, closes shop for the season
Thursday with two games.

William Jewell plays at Central in a conference engagement which will determine the runner up and Valley is host to Rockhurst. Jewell must win or tie to cinch second. Valley was beaten 33-19 last week by Jefferson Barracks and Rockhurst was patted 33 to 0 by Washburn.

Missouri Mines and Maryville are co-champions of the MIAA.
Mines shut out Kirksville 20-0 and Maryville ripped Warrensburg 21-0 to turn the trick.
It was the Rolla School's first taste of a title.

The Mules landed in second place. Springfield beat Cape Girardeau 32-21 for third.
Carbondale, Ill., is scheduled at Cape and Mines goes to Washington U. of St. Louis Thursday in final games. Baker, winner of the Kansas Conference title, plays at Springfield. —Southwestern game

Faurot Gets All-Around Support

Coach Don Faurot of Missouri gets a bit of hilarious locker room support, too, after his football team routed Oklahoma, 28 to 0, in the game in Columbia labeled as the Big Six conference title contest. Missouri still must defeat Kansas, however, to clinch the championship. At Faurot's right foot is Harry Ice and at the left is Norville Wallace both backs.

Grid Rivalries To Be Played This Weekend

The Perfect Team List Dwindled To Fifteen Last Week

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(P)— Football rivalries that grandpa helped inaugurate back in the days of quilted uniforms and handlebar mustaches present their 1941 editions this weekend, which is stretched to three days by the first of this year's Thanksgiving days.

Top honors in prestige and age probably go to the Yale-Harvard meeting Saturday at Cambridge.
Other series to be extended are Southern California-Notre Dame,
St. Mary's-Fordham, Ohio State-Michigan, Kansas-Missouri, Alabama-Vanderbilt and Oregon-Washington.

Of that lot, not a team is unbeaten and untied although Notre Dame has only a 0 to 0 deadlock with army against it. The list of "perfect" teams was cut to 15 last week, with four major powers—Minnesota, Duke, Texas A.
& M. and Duquesne—still among those present.

Only Wisconsin stands between the southern circuit, although North Carolina State isn't too strong.
Wake Forest plays George Washington Thursday. Virginia Poly
meets Virginia Military.

Clemson, proud of its 29 to 0
verdict over Wake Forest, is at Furman Saturday.

Southwest
Both Texas and Texas A. & M.

are idle until their meeting a week from Thursday and turn the spotlight over to Baylor vs.
Southern Methodist and Rice vs.
Texas Christian. The latter still is in the title picture, after dumping Texas, 14-7. The Horned Frogs could share the southwest crown by winning their remaining two games and if Texas repeats its 1940 win over the Aggies.

Far West
Except for the Oregon-Washington feud, little will be done to straighten out the scrambled Pacific Coast conference standing.

East
Yale sends one of the weakest blue teams in history to Cambridge to oppose Chub Peabody and his Harvard mates. Yale lost its sixth straight to Princeton Saturday, 20 to 6, while Harvard trounced Brown, 23 to 7.
Still it is Yale vs. Harvard—and that is almost enough to fill any stadium.

Army, 14 to 7 loser to Penn. takes on West Virginia while Navy goes against an improving Princeton machine. Columbia, tired out holding Michigan to a 28 to 0 win, closes its year against Colgate, held to a 19 to 19 deadlock by Syracuse. Boston college, spilled by Tennessee, 14 to 7, mixes with Boston university. Fordham entertains St. Mary's whipped 35 to 13 by Santa Clara yesterday. Pennsylvania tangles with Cornell, 33 to 19 winner over Dartmouth, and the New Hampshire Indians are the guests of Georgia.

Mid-West
Northwestern, beaten 7 to 6 by Notre Dame, looks too strong for Illinois. Ohio State, 12 to 7 victor over the Zuppikemen, tackles once-beaten Michigan. Iowa, after losing to the Gophers 34-13, goes to Lincoln in hope of giving the Huskers their sixth straight setback. Nebraska was a 14 to 7 victim of Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones of Pittsburgh, who for the second straight week stamped himself as a great back.

Missouri, boss of Oklahoma by a surprising 28 to 0 margin, hopes to attract further bowl attention in its meeting with Kansas, while the Sooners tangle with Marquette, coached this year for the first time by Tom Stidham.
Wisconsin punished Purdue, 13 to 0, in getting ready for Minnesota. The boiler-makers tangle with Indiana in the Hoosier State classic.

South
Alabama needs a victory Saturday over Vanderbilt to remain in the Southeast conference race, dominated by Mississippi State and the University of Mississippi.
The latter two meet November 29. Tennessee collides with Kentucky.

Duke's game dominates in the southern circuit, although North Carolina State isn't too strong.
Wake Forest plays George Washington Thursday. Virginia Poly
meets Virginia Military.

Clemson, proud of its 29 to 0
verdict over Wake Forest, is at Furman Saturday.

peats its 1940 win over the

IT'S NOT JUST LUCK!

Bronco busts into print...via a prize action shot! And "shooting" a bucking bronco is no more a matter of luck than riding him. It takes the combination of skill, experience, and timing. And that's just what it takes to make Hiram Walker's DeLuxe a great bourbon.

It's not just the four long years of aging—not just the mouth-watering aroma—not just the glorious full-bodied flavor—but a perfect combination of all these things that gives Hiram Walker's DeLuxe its "prize" bourbon taste. Try

Missouri, which has won every

Fordham are still other possibili-
